

ROCOL®

Performance you can trust

Optimum plant care from A to V

ROCOL® is the first lubricant and maintenance product manufacturer to achieve The Vegan Society certification.

It means that many of our products that care for your plant and machinery now meet the Vegan Society's rigorous standards - produced with no animals, animal by-products, derivatives or GMOs.

For customers who have made a choice to buy plant-based products, can now be assured that you take the same approach to your production line and manufacturing with the same ethos in mind. With a wide range of Rocol® products registered with the Vegan Trademark®, you can assure your customers that you are creating 100% plant-based products and completing the vegan ecosystem - all the way down the line, without compromise.
